Question 5. (7 points) The United Nations chose March 20 to be The International Happiness Day because it is the most special day in the year. On the mid-spring day (March 20), the sun lies horizontally with the equator, the length of day and night is the same, which symbolizes the balance, and harmony of the universe. This also symbolizes the balance between Yin and Yang, between light and darkness, and between dream and reality. With that meaning, March 20 – The International Happiness Day delivers a message: balance and harmony is one of the keys to happiness.
